Idle Control Motor

For precise ECU idle control

With aftermarket and DIY engine management fitments becoming ever more popular amongst car enthusiasts, racers and kit car owners, demand for universal fitment EMS parts is growing and with this in mind, Webcon are pleased to advise the launch of a universal fitment idle control motor.

The fitment of an idle control motor will allow precise ECU control of the idle and will allow idle compensation for such factors as air conditioning and power steering which would otherwise cause idle fluctuation and possibly stalling.

Part number WID060 is an OE quality idle motor that is supplied complete with a housing to facilitate the connection of bypass air hoses, and ensure easy mounting in a suitable location.

WID060 is suitable for most Aftermarket engine management systems, and is very competitively priced at just £39.16 plus vat
